INT. DR. WINSLOW'S OFFICE - RECEPTION COUNTER - DAY

7

The lovely 30 year old African American Nurse, WENDY, extends an appointment card to Grace.

WENDY

The new class starts in three days.

Grace stares back with unblinking eyes. She and Wendy have, obviously, been through this little "dance" before.

WENDY (CONT'D)

He doesn't even know I exist.

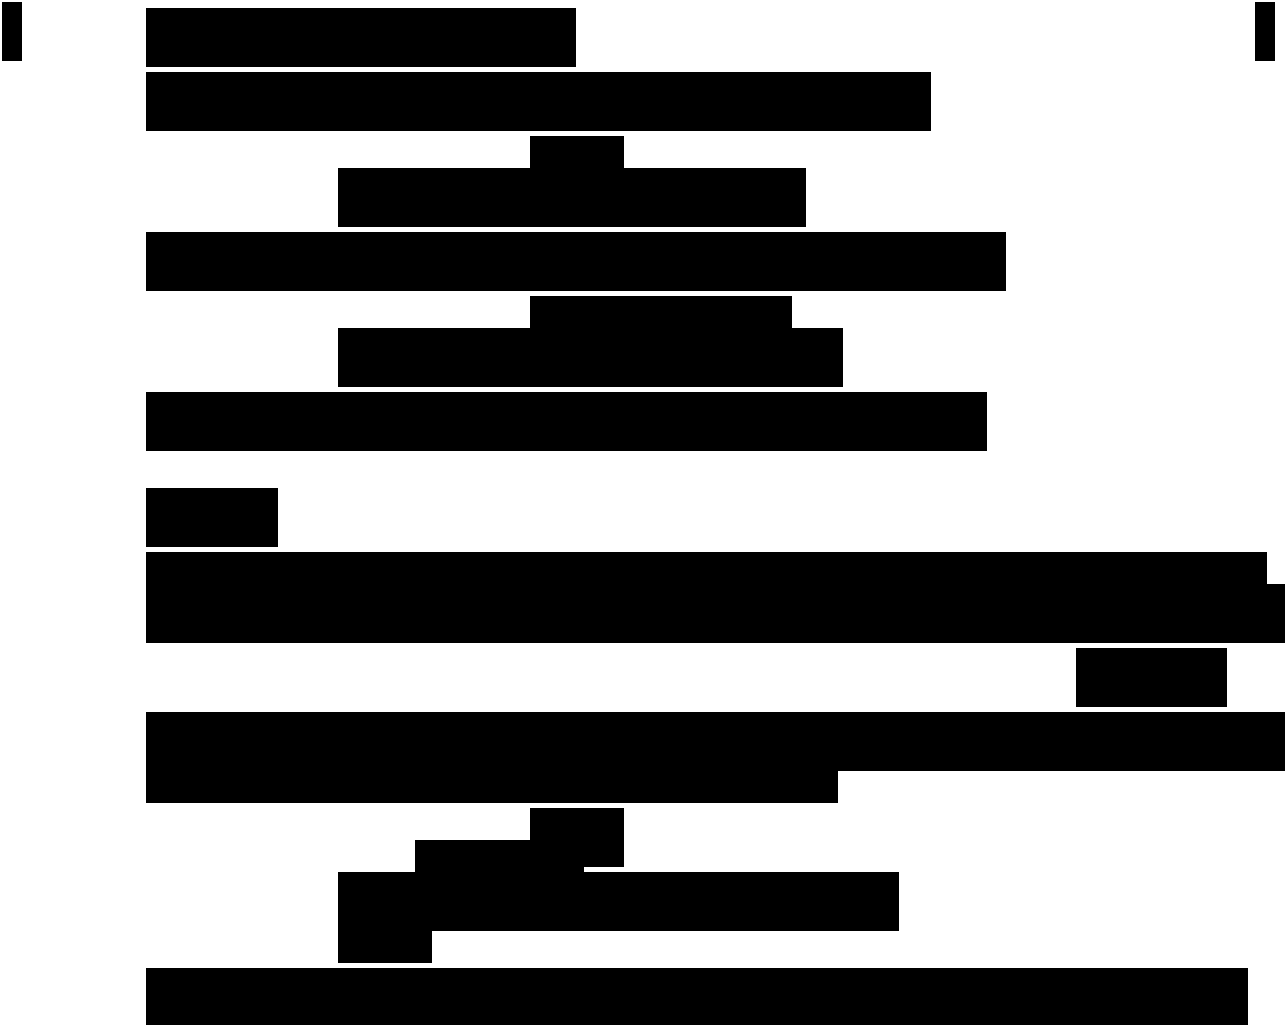

The kid's eyes never waiver.

WENDY (CONT'D)

Okay, you win. I'll ask HIM out.

GRACE

Works for me.

INT. FUNERAL PARLOR - ENTRANCE

104

Grace is sitting on the stairs, wrapped in a blanket and drinking tea.

Bill stands nearby, something on his mind. The Sunrise/Sunset painting is behind him.

BILL

I know that I'm not the easiest person to get along with but what you couldn't know is that...

(he's finding this difficult)

...It wasn't always like this for me.

ANGLE GRACE (SPECIAL SHOT)

She listen intently.

We BOOM UP off of her and higher up the stairway where we catch BILL (AGE 19) running down the steps from the upstairs apartment.

As he moves down the steps Grace is gone. She couldn't be there because it's...
